Important Registration Information

What are important things to remember when scheduling my classes?

- Your Mason username and password!

- You are responsible for checking your schedule for accuracy in Patriot Web. Please do this prior to the last day to add/drop without tuition penalty.

- Semester deadlines are posted on the Academic Calendar – registrar.gmu.edu
  - Last day to ADD classes – September 3
  - Last day to DROP a class with 100% tuition refund – September 9
  - Drop period with no tuition refund – September 10-17
  - Student Self-Withdrawal – September 18-30
  - Selective withdrawal period (3 during undergraduate career) – October 1-29

- Avoid waitlists if possible BUT be familiar with Waitlist Procedures (see packet).

- Use the information your advisor gives you as a reference, and schedule an appointment with your advisor at least once a semester! Advising appointments are available throughout the calendar year.
What are important things to remember when scheduling my classes?

Course Load

Full-time = 12-18 credits per semester

- Undergraduate students may register for up to 18 credit hours without dean’s permission.
- Undergraduate students pay full-time tuition for up to 15 credit hours each semester, and additional tuition for additional credits.

Remember:

15 credits per semester + 2 semesters each year = 4 years to graduate

What are important things to remember when scheduling my classes?

Maintain a school/work/life balance!

20 hours of work per week = register for no more than 12 hours

40 hours of work per week = register for no more than 6 hours

First semester?

- College is an adjustment, carefully consider your schedule.
- Balance academics with extracurricular activities
- REMEMBER: Special consideration is not given if academics suffers because of work.